Analyzing School Access using Mass Transit in Dhaka City MLA, Urban Ecology - Spring 2025

- Mapped the road network, schools, and MRT line in Dhaka using GIS to analyze how effectively the city's transit system connects residents to essential public services—highlighting access gaps and opportunities for improved connectivity.

Between the Neighborhoods MLA, Studio I - Fall 2024

- Redesigned a pedestrian alley on E. 27th Street (Manhattan) to create a more welcoming public space by adding diverse seating, expanding planting areas, and integrating vendor space—enhancing comfort and usability for hospital visitors and local residents.

Design of Ahsania Mission Children City B. Arch., Studio VII - Spring 2018

- Design of a care-focused initiative for destitute and orphaned children—providing safe shelter, education, and emotional support to create a nurturing environment for their growth and development.

Integrated Neighborhood With Parks - Case In Old Dhaka B. Arch., Studio VII - Spring 2018

- Identified underused and underserved open spaces in a dense Old Dhaka neighborhood and proposed connecting them through green corridors and pedestrian pathways. The goal was to improve walkability, link the neighborhood to nearby parks, and ensure inclusive access for people of all ages. The design aimed to create a healthier, more connected urban environment.
